What is the Limbo Casino Game?

Limbo is an instant-win casino game promoted mostly by crypto-gaming sites like Stake. Motivated by the traditional "Crash" mechanic, Limbo asks a simple question: Can you think how high the multiplier will go?

Unlike Crash, where players view a rocket or a line climb upward and by hand squander before it crashes, Limbo is a static game. Players pick a target multiplier before the round starts. The game then generates a random multiplier. If the generated multiplier amounts to or greater than the gamer's target, the bet wins. If it falls listed below the target, the bet loses.

How a Round Works:

1. Place a Bet: The player selects how much cash they want to bet.
2. Set a Target Multiplier: The gamer chooses their desired payout (e.g., 2x, 10x, 100x, and even 1,000,000 x).
3. Roll/Spin: The gamer hits the bet button.
4. The Result: The system produces a random number. The UI shows whether the target was fulfilled and computes the payout instantly.

Understanding the Mathematics and RTP

To an observer, Limbo may look like pure uncertainty, but it is deeply rooted in possibility. A lot of credible online casinos offer Limbo with a very high Return to Player (RTP)-- generally around 99%. This suggests the home edge is a razor-thin 1%.

The mathematical relationship in Limbo is inversely proportional: The higher your target multiplier, the lower your win likelihood. Conversely, the lower your target, the greater your chances of winning.

Limbo Probability Breakdown

To offer gamers a clearer image of how danger and benefit scale in Limbo, consider the following statistical breakdown (presuming a requirement 1% home edge):

Target Multiplier Win Probability (%) Example Potential Payout on a £ 10 Bet 1.01 x 98.01% £ 10.10 2.00 x 49.50% £ 20.00 5.00 x 19.80% £ 50.00 10.00 x 9.90% £ 100.00 50.00 x 1.98% £ 500.00 100.00 x 0.99% £ 1,000.00 1,000.00 x 0.099% £ 10,000.00
