The goal is simple: money out before the multiplier "crashes."

If a gamer successfully squanders at 2.50 x, they get their original stake increased by 2.50. Nevertheless, if the crash happens before they hit the cash-out button, the bet is lost totally. The catch is that the crash point is identified arbitrarily for each single round, suggesting a multiplier might crash quickly at 1.00 x, or it might in theory climb to huge heights like 1,000 x or more.

1. The Betting Window: Players have a minimal timeframe (normally 5 to 10 seconds) to place one or 2 wagers and optionally set an "auto-cashout" limit.
2. The Ascent: Once the betting window closes, the multiplier starts at 1.00 x and starts ticking up in real time.
3. The Decision: Players must choose whether to squander early for a modest, safe revenue or hold on for a larger payment, risking an overall loss.
4. The Crash: At a totally random moment, the multiplier stops growing. The round ends, and all players who failed to cash out lose their bets.
