2. Age Restrictions

- Steam requires users to be a minimum of 13, but many jurisdictions set the legal gambling age at 18 or 21. Because there is no direct fiat deal, enforcement is weak, resulting in an increase of underage participants.

3. Regulative Actions

- The United Kingdom Gambling Commission (UKGC) issued a 2023 advisory warning that skin-based gambling can be considered "unlicensed gambling" if the skin's market worth goes beyond a particular limit (£ 1,000).
- The United States has no federal law categorically banning skin wagering, yet several states (e.g., Washington, New York) have categorized particular skin-based sites as unlawful under their online gambling statutes.

4. Future Outlook

- Valve Corporation (owner of Steam) has actually repeatedly threatened to obstruct accounts that communicate with unlicensed gambling websites. Nevertheless, legal fights have actually limited decisive action, and numerous gambling establishments continue to operate under the "virtual item" loophole.
