

Fall is a popular wedding season in Maine, with foliage adding rich color to outdoor wedding photography, and Annie Paige Photography books up accordingly during this window. The changing leaves along the Maine coast and countryside create a distinctive backdrop that pairs well with the business's film-inspired style. Couples planning a fall wedding are encouraged to book photography well in advance given how popular this season is.

Annie Paige Photography | 59 State Portland wedding photography packages St, Portland, ME 04101 | (207) 841-4333

Golden hour light in autumn tends to be especially striking, adding another reason fall remains a favorite season for wedding photography. Call (207) 841-4333 to check availability for a fall wedding date.